

Jane Deuber was a guest speaker at our 2010 Pure Romance National Training. She spoke to our Pure Romance Consultants in the direct sales industry, at the beginner level. Her lecture topic was “Life Management Skills of the Wildly Successful” and the goal was to educate and empower the Consultants on how to manage their lives, both professionally and personally, and change their mindset and beliefs to have a positive impact on their success. Her message was right on target with what our Consultants needed to hear and learn with where they are in their business. Here is what just some of our Pure Romance Consultants had to say:
